Then blaze a trail to Pioneer Plaza.*

Here, where the old roads and cattle trails that made Dallas meet, you'll find the world's largest bronze sculpture as well as the perfect place to host a history-making event. There's no place that's more uniquely Dallas, and no better place for anything from a catered party to an outdoor concert. Westward, ho!

PIONEER PLAZA FACTS

Pioneer Plaza is a 4.2-acre park — right in the middle of downtown Dallas. It's home to native area plants, a flowing stream, numerous waterfalls and the largest bronze sculpture in the world. The sculpture includes 49 longhorns and three mounted cowboys, each over seven feet tall and weighing more than 1200 pounds. Pioneer Plaza was created by renowned artist and lifelong Texas resident, Robert Summers.
